It is with incredible sadness that we learned of the passing of Lama Zoepa Rinpoche. He was a great spiritual leader and teacher who inspired and touched the lives of countless individual through his wisdom, compassion, humanitarian work and his profound dedication to the path of enlightenment.

Lama Zoepa Rinpoche's passing is a great loss not only to his students and followers but to the wider Buddhist community and the world at large. However, his legacy will continue to live in through his teaching, inspiring and guiding countless individual on the path of spiritual awakening and personal transformation. His contributions towards the preservation of Tibetan language and culture, promotion of sustainable development and social welfare, have not only inspired Tibetans but people of other ethnicities as well to assume agency for the future for their own language and culture, and to work for the betterment of all societies.

We offer our deepest condolences to Kyabje Lama Zoepa Rinpoche's family, friends and students during this difficult time. We have held a prayer service at Old People Home (OPH) for his quick reincarnation. May his soul rest in peace, and may his teaching continue to benefit all sentient beings.
