Introductory Class Leader needed at Root Institute, Bodhgaya (INDIA) for the 2024 winter season

Root Institute for Wisdom Culture is the FPMT centre in Bodhgaya, the seat of Enlightenment and the centre of the Buddhist world.

We are looking for an FPMT student to lead introductory courses and meditation and to lead group practices. These will all be in-person only.

Role Functions:

- Leading regular introductory weekend/three day courses on Buddhism and meditation.
- Helping with group practices at both Root Institute and the Mahabodhi Stupa.

Qualifications required for this position:

- Deep respect for His Holiness the 14th Dalai Lama and Kyabje Lama Zopa Rinpoche.
- Considerable experience of studying and practicing FPMT education programs and practices.
- A good command of the English language.
- Sign and abide by the center’s Protection from Abuse Policy.
- Sign and abide by the FPMT Ethical Policy.

Duration:

A minimum commitment of three months is required between the months of early January to the end March 2024.

Benefits

- Access to Mahabodhi Stupa (where it all began!)
- A unique opportunity to both practice and serve at this holy place.
- Accommodation and meals will be provided.
- Opportunity to participate in pilgrimages in and around Bodhgaya.
- A small stipend for each course you lead
- Create skies of merit!!!

Application

- Please email us with your expression of interest at: spc@rootinstitute.ngo
- Include a copy of your CV
- Two spiritual reference/dharma friends connected with the FPMT organization.