

OFFERING SERVICE IN THE FPMT

WHAT IS THE FPMT?

The Foundation for the Preservation of the Mahayana Tradition is an international network of Buddhist teaching centers, meditation centers, retreat centers, monasteries, nunneries, publishing houses, hospices, healing centers, and other community service projects, all functioning to achieve our mission.

The FPMT was founded in 1975 by Lama Thubten Yeshe and Lama Thubten Zopa Rinpoche. The unity of the work of the Foundation is maintained by following the direction given by these two great lamas.

WHY OFFER SERVICE?

- To become more involved in this amazing and evolving philanthropic organization.
- To join a great family of people who share Rinpoche's vision of enlightenment for all sentient beings, and who work to make that a reality in their own lives and in the lives of those around them.
- To have the satisfaction of working for the benefit of others, not for money or fame.
- To have an opportunity to work and live in different places in the world.

TYPICAL JOB OPPORTUNITIES:

Housekeeper; receptionist; manager; book-keeper/accountant; publicity and promotion; fundraising; building maintenance; spiritual program coordinator (for more experienced students).

Most centers will offer room and food, some also offer pocket money. There are a few centers with full-time positions which offer a salary. The conditions vary from center to center and from job to job.

HOW TO OFFER SERVICE

The main ways to find out about job and volunteer opportunities available in the FPMT are:

1. Check out opportunities listed on the Jobs and Volunteer Opportunities page
2. Subscribe to the FPMT International Office E-News, which flags up new job or volunteer opportunities as well as giving updates on Lama Zopa Rinpoche's advice and schedule and other FPMT updates.
3. Subscribe to the FPMT e-group, as FPMT centers, projects and services sometimes send out job advertisements via this e-group. It is very easy to subscribe - simply send a blank email to the FPMT e-group: fpmt-subscribe@yahoogroups.com

If there are no opportunities currently available which fit what you are looking for, you are welcome to fill in the questions below and send them to the Center Services director at FPMT International Office - centerservices@fpmt.org

The Center Services director may then inform FPMT centers, projects and services of your offer of service, and those centers with appropriate vacancies will contact you directly.
